

MUSIC-THEATER-DANCE

Pop singer Kesha to perform at Stroh Center in B.G.

Profits from Jan. 27 performance going to charity

BLADE STAFF

Published on Dec. 12, 2016 | Updated 1:44 p. m.

BOWLING GREEN — Known for her hit singles, "Your Love Is My Drug," "Tik Tok," and "We R Who We R," pop singer Kesha will make her way to the Stroh Center at Bowling Green State University on Jan. 27 for a benefit concert.

The show is in collaboration with Bands4Change, a company started by Maumee Valley Country Day School senior Maya Dayal in 2015 that hosts concerts to raise awareness for local and global social issues, as well as to raise money for charities addressing those issues.

While Kesha is set to take the stage in Bowling Green, 100 percent of the profits will be donated to charities such as Human Society International, National Eating Disorder Association and Rape Abuse and Incest National Network.

Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased for $45, $55 and $65 at www.ticketmaster.com or at the BGSU Box Office at 1-800-745-3000. Doors will open at 7 p.m.

Kesha

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Enlarge

10 MBPS
+
HD CABLE

UNDER $50
PER MONTH

EVERY DAY PRICE

BUY ONLINE NOW

100 MBPS
+
EXPRESS TV

POWERED BY TVO